

Community Recreation Leaders' Award

The Community Recreation Leaders' Award (CRLA) is for anyone over 15 who wants to develop skills in recreation leadership. Typical CRLA participants are volunteers who assist youth groups, sports clubs, and community organisations. The CRLA is a practical program designed particularly for those who have limited or no formal training.

It covers

- Knowing what makes a session work well
- Making the most of limited space and equipment
- Understanding fitness for everyone
- Improving participation
- Organising events and competitions
- Managing risk and responsibility
- Leading group games
- Accommodating different capabilities
- Responding to emergencies
- Building community networks

*"I now have confidence in myself to take on challenges.
Great character building."*

CRLA Graduate

*"Definitely worth doing. Lots of fun.
Built relationships and networks."*

CRLA Graduate

The CRLA aims to support leadership in community recreation by raising standards and self-confidence and acting as a pathway towards employment and further training.

The CRLA course fee is heavily subsidised to only $50 per person
